Strategic planning update

Spring begins with little buds

Trinity's teams and committees have been working through the winter on our strategic plan. The forming of small groups, the Maundy Thursday service, and outreach to inactive members are just a few of the "buds" that we see growing.

In addition, ad hoc groups were formed to interview (1) architects for the facilities master plan and (2) capital campaign consultants.

At its May meeting, Council will receive recommendations about which architect and which financial consultant to select.

As part of their work, the selected entities will survey and interview parishioners to determine the steps forward.

Please continue to pray for Trinity, our staff, and our leaders as we grow and discern where God is leading us.

Relationship geometry

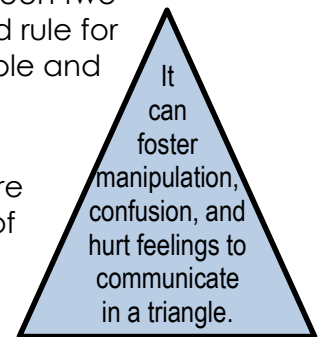

The Rev. Dr. Jack Horner

I wasn't much of a math person growing up. Simple math was OK, but not algebra, trigonometry, and calculus. I asked myself, "When will I ever use this again?!" Since I had no plans to be an astrophysicist, I thought it was a legitimate question.

I did enjoy geometry though. It made sense with its measuring of dimensions, points, lines, objects, shapes. I've used those formulas often when making things or home improvement projects. And it's come in handy with relationships as well.

The first rule we learned in 10th grade geometry class was that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line. That's a good rule for human relationships as well. It is simple and to the point.

Effective communication has two points: speaker and hearer. The more "points" added, the higher the risk of misunderstanding. If you've played that old telephone game (or whisper game), you learned you must go to the source if you want to understand an idea or person. In other words, make it a straight line.

Jesus understood this simple geometry very well. In the gospel of Matthew, chapter 18, he says, "If a fellow believer hurts you, go and tell him—work it out between the two of you. If he listens, you've made a friend." (The Message.) Straight lines make better relationships.

Sometimes, rather than a straight line, triangles are created. Relationship triangles happen when Person 1 brings in Person 3 to communicate to Person 2. That means that, instead of carrying the burden to Person 2 himself, Person 1 is asking Person 3 to carry it!

Unfortunately, this relationship triangle doesn't help communication or solve a problem but, instead, can foster manipulation, confusion, and hurt feelings.

Triangles are not necessarily bad—as long as the role of Person 3 is to get Persons 1 and 2 together to form a straight line of communication. As Jesus continues in Matthew, "If he won't listen, take one or two others along so that the presence of witnesses will keep things honest, and try again."

In that case, the role of the Person 3 is clear, to be a witness and encourager of straight communication between the parties involved.

Why does Jesus insist Christians act this way? The answer is clear: so the Church can be made up of circles of love, reconciliation, and grace. And that shapes us all!

Volunteers needed to pack meals on June 3

On June 3, Hunger J.A.M. (Justice and Mercy) 2016 will strive to pack 400,000 nutritionally complete meals to help feed hungry Pennsylvanians.

Sponsored by the Lower Susquehanna Synod, the event at Messiah College needs volunteers, and Trinity is looking for YOU to donate about two hours of your time to work as part of a team of 12 in an assembly line process needing 1,200 people for the day!

Sign up in the Gathering Space starting May 8 or at www.timetosignup.com/trinitycampbill anytime. For more information, go to <http://www.lss-elca.org/hunger-jam/> or contact Jane Killian at 717-433-3201 jkillian@gmail.com.

All Trinity women are invited to May 4 meeting

All Trinity women are invited and encouraged to attend the Wednesday, May 4, General Meeting of Women of Trinity at 6 pm in Fellowship Hall.

Please bring a covered dish.

The guest speaker is Brian Gaughan, co-founder of Pink Hands of Hope, which provides needed items to women fighting breast cancer—or to persons fighting any type of cancer. Hear the inspirational story that began April 1, 2008, when Brian's wife, Laurie, then 45, was diagnosed with Stage 1 breast cancer.

Here's a preview of that story:

As Laurie received surgery and treatment, she and Brian were surprised to discover that not everything is covered through health insurance. They used their own savings to make sure Laurie got what she needed.

Being led by God, Brian and Laurie took a leap of faith. They started Pink Hands of Hope on June 1, 2009, to help other women who might also find themselves without all of the support they need to battle the cancer.

Blessing Boxes will be collected at meeting

Also at the May 4 meeting, Blessing Boxes will be collected to benefit New Hope Ministries (see story on New Hope, below). Trinity women, when they feel blessed, make a deposit to their Blessing Boxes. What a great idea and a wonderful way to share our blessings!

Donations to New Hope will be collected by Women of Trinity through June 30.

Trinity supports New Hope Ministries

New Hope Ministries—a Trinity Social Ministry partner—is a community-based Christian social service agency that provides support and organized assistance for at-risk and in-crisis individuals and families through centers in Mechanicsburg, Dillsburg, Hanover, and Dover. The agency's programs impact close to 15,000 persons yearly by helping them with basic needs and equipping them to change their lives.

Services are available to people regardless of age, race, gender, or religious affiliation, and include these:

- ✓ Crisis assistance. Provide guests assistance with needs such as food, household and personal care items, rent/mortgage, utilities, transportation and medical care and referral services.
- ✓ Stability and workforce development. People are met at their point of need and provided training in basic financial budgeting skills, help with job searches, resume-building and interview preparation, preparation classes for General Education Development (GED) diplomas and education regarding nutrition and food preparation.
- ✓ After school and summer youth programs. Through recreational programs and mentoring, New Hope reaches out to at-risk children and youth with the goal of providing structured, constructive programs and positive adult role models.

Numerous volunteer opportunities exist with all of New Hope Ministries' programs. A volunteer application is available online at www.nhm-pa.org; click on "Ways to Give." Questions about New Hope? Contact Brad Hollinger at 717-730-0401 or blhmanheim@comcast.net.

Youth Group keeps busy with great activities; invites everyone to join talent show on May 13

There's always lots of good stuff happening at, for, and by YG, so take note!

Talent show open to everyone!

On Friday, May 13, starting at 6:30 pm in Fellowship Hall, all Trinity members are invited to share their talents and abilities at this intergenerational talent show hosted by YG and Children and Family Ministries. You can sing, dance, tell a good joke, read a poem, or share whatever other gift you'd like. You'll get to enjoy desserts and beverages, too, whether or not you decide to share your talent. Any money collected in a free-will offering will benefit future YG events, so come on out and enjoy this event with your Trinity brothers and sisters.

If you're performing, sign up by Monday, May 9, at www.timetosignup.com/trinitycamphill or in the Gathering Space. No need to sign up if you're just coming out to watch Trinity's talent and enjoy the food, fun, and fellowship! Questions? Call Peter Fox at 717-737-9921, ext. 227.

Here's our awesome Youth Group at its April Spring Retreat at Camp Nawakwa. YG is always looking for more youth to join in. Come out with your friends on Sunday, May 1, from 6-8:30 pm for YG Outside Nite. Keep updated by visiting <http://www.trinitycamphill.org/YG/index.htm>.

Help sustain Trinity's ministries for the long term

Trinity continues to pursue ways to stabilize and strengthen our ministries for the future through our strategic planning. Maintaining and increasing our endowment is critical to the long-term sustainability and growth of Trinity's ministries both here and throughout the world.

We are undertaking an initiative to inform you of ways to make long-term investments through endowment giving.

Did you know? The IRA qualified dividend charitable distribution is available to you if you are of qualifying age. A gift to Trinity directly from your IRA could (1) be excluded from your gross income as a qualified charitable deduction and (2) count toward your required minimum distribution, or RMD. Your giving through this approach benefits Trinity because you can donate more to the church with no greater effort than giving with your post-tax dollars.

To qualify, you must be 70 and a half or older and the gift must go directly from your IRA to Trinity. Your total IRA gifts in one year may not exceed $100,000.

For general information, please contact Paul Hensel in the church office. You should also consult your tax advisor to determine if you can benefit from this opportunity.

Have fun at Trinity's "Getting to know you" pot luck dinner on Sunday, May 22

Join your Trinity brothers and sisters immediately following the late services on Sunday, May 22, for our "Getting to know you" pot-luck dinner!

Whether you're a long-time member, a mid-termer, or a newbie, this is the dinner for you. It's the Fellowship Team's way of connecting you with others around a common theme.

Here's how it works. You choose a table based on a theme: gardening, sports fan, loves to read, music, dining out, dog lover, loves to cook, cat lover, DIY'er, traveler, outdoor enthusiast, parenting, or movies. There are even some tables for older kids: Disney, reader, video game, and music lover. At that table, you'll connect with ideas and questions that will get the conversation going.

After dinner, some of Trinity's "celebrities" will take the stage to face some of their own questions. It's all in fun, and you'll learn things about your leaders that you might not have known.

Sign up by May 8 in the Gathering Space or online at www.timetosignup.com/trinitycamphill. For the dinner itself, people with last names A-I will bring a main dish; J-S, side dish or veggies; and T-Z, dessert. We'll have volunteers in the kitchen on the morning of the dinner to help get your dish into the fridge or oven as needed. See you there!

Volunteers needed for May 21 breakfast

Please consider helping with the Community Connections breakfast at Trinity on May 21 beginning at 9 am. Trinity hosts this breakfast for men and women re-entering the community following incarceration. Volunteers are needed for food prep, greeting, transportation, and cleanup. A few are also needed for set up and food prep on Friday, May 20, as well. Contact Kristen Campbell at 717-805-1716 or at kristencampbell156@gmail.com to participate.

Help our military ministry

New member Leslie Reed has volunteered to re-start, refresh, and potentially expand a ministry for people serving in the military. The primary mission is to communicate with those who want to maintain a Trinity connection.

Leslie is seeking background information from folks who were beneficiaries of this ministry, and from others who may have helped with it. What communications were used, and with what frequency? What was most positive? What might we do differently, and what ideas might we initiate now?

If you've been involved with this ministry in any way, whether in military service or as a Trinity volunteer, please contact Leslie at 717-805-7788 or at lesliereed1116@gmail.com.

Yard sale will support Ecumenical Food Pantry

Yes, you can enjoy food, fun, and fellowship while cleaning out your “treasures” and supporting the Ecumenical Food Pantry, a social mission partner.

Messiah Lutheran Church, in conjunction with friends of Midtown Harrisburg's Annual Sidewalk Sale, is hosting a yard sale on Saturday, May 14, from 9 am to 2 pm. You can rent a spot in Messiah's parking lot for just $10 to sell items you no longer treasure. The church is located at the corner of Commonwealth and Forster streets in Harrisburg.

Alternatively, you can come find new treasures for yourself while you enjoy baked goods, participate in children's activities, or take a tour of this historic church.

The yard sale is a FUNdraiser to benefit the Ecumenical Food Pantry that serves more than 1,000 individuals a month, as well as Messiah's Vacation Bible School. Sellers are encouraged to provide a donation of their profits to either charity. Call the Messiah Church office at 717-233-6731 to reserve your spot.
